Ob, the "Crows," the "Crows," the "Crows," what fine birds they are, and how highly they are prized in this, the dear old city of Norfolk, for their speed and endurance of flight from the very lowest branch of the percentage tree to within just a few twigs of the third bighest limb of that, just how, very attractive, important, and the third bighest limb of that, just now, very attractive, important, and valuable mark of high standing which certifies quality and greatness. Not that the "Crows" spoken of here are "Tree Crows." Oh, no, for they are of a species of the old world "Crows" belonging to Crypsithina and allied genera, intermediate between the true crows and the jays. They are long tailed, and their bills are curved, and without teeth.

and without teeth.

It is not so with Arthur O'Neill's
"Crows." They are just the reverse.
They are of the New World, and were They are of the New World, and were especially captured for positions on Norfolk's new team of bull players. They were sealed, marked and sent through billed, valuable, and reached their destination just in time to save Norfolk from a humiliating position in the Virginia League pennant race. The Norfolk "Crows" are a splendid collection of "birds," exceeding, if possible, the perfection of the art of transforming darkness into label, and they complete the same contents of the same conten forming darkness into light, and chaos into serenty.

Their work yesterday with Lynch-

burg's excellent suggregation of expert ball players is evidence sufficient to the minds of those who appreciate to the least extent that which is really deservleast extent that which is really deserving of the highest praise and commendation that Nortoik has a ball team of which she should be proud, and which should be encouraged to deeds of greater magnitude and excellence by the whole souled patronage and applause of the Norfoik bail loving public. Do this, and when the and appliance of the Norfolk ball loving public. Do this, and when the "Crows" meet the "Blue Birds" next Monday it will more than probable that the battle ground will be strewn with a greater number of the plucked feathers bearing the colors of Richmond, than those representing the sable or sombre colored hues of the "Crows."

'Crows. Excuse the digression, and now to the game, which was a magnificent one from a Norfolk standpoint, the home from a Norfolk standpoint, the home team working together with a precision and vim that added renewed contidence and swelled the hearts of the Norfolk "rooters" to the extent of leading them to say many pleasant things of the team, both individually and collectively. Lynchburg failed to presont the "gingery" styles she has be come noted for and moved around in a slow kind of a way that seemed to say, we are tired and don't feel, like playing. But whether they felt like it or not they were compelled to get a move on them when the "Crows" began to them when the "Crows" began to bang" the leather, which they did good and hard on several occasions. McPartin and Cote occupied the points for the Norfolks, and Willis and Raffert did the same honors for the "Hill Climbers," who could only connect safely six times with the definive sphere, which Mcl'artin eaw fit to toss sphere, which Mcl'arthin eaw fit to toss over the plate in so many different styles. The boy had all kinds of de heeries yesterday and he mixed them in he in such great shape, that Capt. Berryhill and comrades, could'nt gauge them, consequently they were kept guessing from the start to the linish of the game.

He would fire in one with steam be-hind it, then a slow drow or a very ter-

He would fire in one with steam behind it, then a slow drop or a pretty in or an out shoot would follow, and so on until the visitors literally gave up in despair of ever landing with sufficient safety to be of much value to them. Willis is a good "twirler," but he had men to face him who are "terrors" to pitchers, and he proved no exception to the rule, for the "Crows" jumped on him for ten hits, four of them, two doubles and two singles, being counted against him in the eighth inteng, acting three runs. A run was made in the second on errors of Willis and Ferguson, and singles by Cote and Thornton. One more came across the plate in the fourth on Thornton's two base hit and Thompson's muff of Cote's high fly.

The Lynchburgers were retired in almost one two three order all through rors' to pitchers, and he proved n almost one two three order all through the game, and not a "Hill Climber" got an opportunity to reach that all got an opportunity to reach that all important place, not only in baseball but in everything else, and that place, in reference to yesterday's game, was "Home, Sweet Home." By Southern Associated Press.

Perference, Va., September 6—Today's game between Petersburg and Portsmouth was not decided until the last man was put out, the home team winning by a score of 12 to 10. Gaffaey pitched five innings, but after giving three bases on balls in the fifth and allowing three safe hits, scoring three runs, he was taken out, l'ackard succeeded him. Moynihau was in the box for the "Iruckors" and with proper support would have won his game, though he was touched up for seventeen safe drives, but he was fortunate in keeping them well scattered. The game throughout was quick and snappy; in fact, the "Truckers" put up the heat game they have played here this senson. The batting of Hail, Pender and Pender's brilliant fielding were the features. Score: were the features. Score:
